BRÜNSWICK, March 23, 1944 Reuters American bombers unsuccessfully attacked the small village of Altmarkburg in Southern Germany last night, as usual the brutal Americans bombed a school, several cavilian homes, and damaged a hospital. On their way back the americans strafed 3 large herds of cows as they grazed in fields near the town. Our antiaircraft guns shot down 30 out of the 33 bombers.

(P.S. the cows are still burning)

MOSCOW, Monday, March 27 (UP) A German Patrol of 60 men, near the Red Army Base of Chebizov in the Ukraine, was ambushed yesterday by a troop of Russian Guerillas. All the Germans were annihilated, 5 Russians were killed and several wounded. German Reports say that Col von Strobert, the famous German officer known for his exploits in Poland, was among those killed, 500 Russian prisoners were hung as a result of this attack.
